DISSERTATION RESEARCH

“The Dynamics of Co-Residence, Wealth, and Family Formation” (Job Market Paper)

- Methods: Event studies/dynamic difference-in-differences, causal inference (IV)
- Findings: Marriage and fertility are strongly correlated with leaving the parental home, whereas net worth is not. Co-residence responds modestly to plausibly exogenous changes in housing affordability.

“Parental Co-Residence and Asset Accumulation”

- Methods: Heterogeneous agent model
- Findings: The extra savings from living with parents are used to pay off student loans.

“Parental Co-Residence and Marital Transitions”(In Progress)

- Methods: Discrete choice model
